CYCLE RACING SITUATIONS.

Comparison of L. A. W. and "Outlaw" Governments Thus Far This Season. The cycle racing situation in this country at present shows that the League of American Wheelman has sanctioned near ly as many meets throughout the States as it had at this time has year. Lear season was one of unusual activity among the promoters, and even under the most capable conditions. the promoters, and even under the most favorable conditions this consol would not equal it, but the returns from the Racing Board show; that sport is in a very satis-factory condition. The board has already granted several hundred sanctions to spits of the fact that some permoters have been timid because of the "out-

The so-called opposition organization to the League, on the other hand, had been able to conduct but a comparatively few scattering mosts. The "outlaw" IF YOU few scattering mosts. The "outlaw" meets seldom average more than two a we k in all districts, whereas the League averages nearly forty a week. This shows most conclusively the comparative strength of the League and the "outlaws." It is significant, too, that the "outlaws." have not been able to show a single weakness in the rules of the League, whereas it has been repeatedly shown that such rules as are made by the "out. whereas it has been repeatedly shown that such rules as are made by the "out. Inwa" have only in view the scenting of such persons as can be gotten through aflowing them privileges which are not lowed at present.
